The need is great. There are too many hungry in the Fox Valley, too many homeless. Too many seniors seeking assistance, too many teens and younger kids who hope someone cares.

Our role at Fox Valley United Way is to collect dollars donated by employees participating in company United Way campaigns; sponsorships from businesses that believe in their communities; donations large and small from individuals throughout the Fox Valley.

Then we allocate funds to the more than 50 local social service agencies we serve, organizations that have asked us to support designated programs that reach out to people who are less fortunate.
