The One-Minute Mentor

How to create a citations for articles in the EBSCO databases

•This tutorial will help you to create a citations for articles found in EBSCO databases. We’ll begin in Academic Search Complete.
• On the main search screen, enter your topic in the search box and click the green “Search” button.
• On the results page, choose an article that looks relevant, and click on its title.
• This action will take us to the article’s abstract.
On the abstract page for this article, there is a “Cite” tab on the right side of the screen. Click on it.
• From the “Citation Format” list, you can copy and paste citation information into your paper. You may have to format the information according to style rules, but all of the components are present to create a complete reference.
